LION '65 Vol. XXXVI

Liberty Union High 850 Second Street

Brentwood, California

FOREWORD

At best, the annual is incomplete. This may seem like an overly critical statement from those responsible for presenting this yearbook. However, to show the many faces of Liberty would take several hundred pages. This was not possible; but though individual efforts, we have attempted to present the faculty, students, curriculum, activities, organizations, and sports in an interesting and organized manner. The staff of 1964-65 proudly feels that the "Liberty" presented between these pages is the same one which we have grown to know.

Glimpses Of

The Veterans Memorial Hall provided temporary classrooms.

The fire of March 24, 1963, left Liberty with its main building destroyed. Temporary quarters were taken up in the Legion Hall, one block from the main campus, and in the Girls Gymnasium. With the citizens passage of a building bond and the start of building construction this year, the face of Liberty has been everchanging.

Students follow a gravel path from bus to lockers.

Liberty

For her devotion and inspiration to students, Annual Staff proudly dedicates the '65 LION to Mrs. Mary Jane Barnes.

Mrs. Barnes's early education was obtained in Kentucky, the state in which she was born. She furthered her education at Arizona State where she received her Masters Degree in English and Social Studies.

After fifteen years of teaching experience at various schools, Mrs. Barnes joined the teaching staff of Liberty. During her years with us she has taught English, drama, public speaking, and journalism.

Besides being active in many social and school functions, Mrs. Barnes finds time to write. She has written and published a number of plays and has recently published two books of poetry, DELTA PORTRAITS and THE OPPOSITE SHORE.

To Mrs. Barnes, wife, mother, teacher, authoress, and friend, we would like to express our appreciation and gratitude.

On the Board of Trustees' shoulders rests the responsibility of giving our students the best education possible. Their decisions shape the future of Liberty, and, indeed, our future citizens. By their support of a long-range building program and more diversified course offerings, they have gone a long way to insure quality education at Liberty.

With the Boards' approval, heavy construction started in mid-December, 1964.

Superintendent Principal

Mr. Boulding inspects early construction work.

A Man With A Purpose

A man with a purpose. That purpose is to improve constantly and update the education of the Liberty students.

Every day from eight in the morning until often late in the evening, Mr. Wayne Boulding can be found doing such tasks as supervising the new construction, interviewing job applicants and discussing new course offerings and improved curriculum with the staff.

Just as the curriculum was fitted to the students of 1904-1905, so is it being tailored and improved by Mr. Boulding for the students of today and tomorrow. He is ever serious about his duties but still possesses a keen sense of humor and a contagious smile. These, along with a willingness to consider each problem with patience and fairness, are but a few characteristics of Liberty's Superintendent-Principal.

Administration

Runs Smoothly

These gentlemen complete the Administrative team that causes Liberty to run smoothly, despite some temporary quarters for classrooms and problems presented by the building program. Each handles his share of the load, with Mr. Bronzan's taking care of student activities and student control, Mr. Noble's being in charge of counseling, and Mr. Clayburn responsible for student control and attendance. They have enthusiastically tackled their daily duties, plus the other necessary jobs required of an administrative department.

All this is done under the capable leadership of Vernon Noble. The tireless work by Leonard Lucio, and the enthusiasm shown by Miss Lida Logan in her first year at Liberty, have been invaluable.

Librarian.

947 students, 45 teachers, 118 subjects, all make demands on the library for books, films, periodicals, newspapers, and audio-visual materials used in 35 classrooms. Because of this the library has been selected to open the faculty and curriculum section.

A library that was almost destroyed by fire in 1963, has had a startling growth from the few hundred books salvaged to to a rising number of over 4,400. Each of the new additions is carefully selected by Mr. Sharafanowich with the aid of the instructors.

Liberty's library is its nerve center, one that is growing and improving to keep pace with the growing needs and changes of our school.

Mathematics has fascinated man since his early history, and still puzzles and intrigues the human mind.

Since the stress on this subject has become greater with the passing years, Liberty has developed a well rounded program designed to fit the future. The mathematics teachers have conveyed their knowledge of basic mathematics, Algebra I and II, Geometry, and Trigonometry to the students, with added instruction for those who need further help. Because of the interest shown in these courses, the mathematics department has added a new instructor, Mr. Ronald DenUyl, who teaches Algebra I and II.

Science Promises Much More

Science is an art to which we should give credit for our many comforts. These luxuries are product of thought.

The Science Department endeavors to stimulate thought, to develop the scientific attitude, and to encourage experimentation.

One year of science is required of Liberty students. They obtain this through General Science, taught by a new teacher, Mr. Robert Glenn. Advanced General Science students apply basic knowledge to probe for new facts; biology students learn through dissection; aspiring chemists launch themselves into lab experiments; and physics students find excellent opportunities for advanced exploration by using various acquired skills.

The business courses offer a basic education to those who wish to have a part in the business world. Students are introduced to such skills as typing, filing, accounting, duplicating and stenography. In his first year at Liberty, Mr. Donald Yeager is an important addition to this department. Also important to a business career are the fundamentals students learn such as record keeping, bookkeeping, clerical office practice, shorthand, and business mathematics.

After completing the introductory Art Fundamentals course, students are prepared to advance to Design and Composition I, II, III, or Advanced Crafts, where they receive more specialized instruction.

As the year progressed, many awards were won by the creative students and instructors in this department.

The Applied Arts Show gave the students a final chance to exhibit the hundreds of projects they have labored on since last September.

Because of the importance of farming in the surrounding Brentwood area, the agriculture department at Liberty has been greatly developed. With access to a full one and one-fourth acres of land and two new greenhouses, the department has been able to place more emphasis on actual field training. Mr. Rodriguez has acquired new soil bins, must propagation, outside work benches, and a storage shed: all of which provide a more complete agricultural program.

Drafting Utilizes New Equipment

To keep up with the progress in modern industry, the drafting department has presented a program encouraging the use of modern drafting equipment. Girls have been welcomed into this department because of the new trend for female labor in industry.

Besides the Mechanical Drawing I and II classes, there were also two classes offered in Architectural Drawing. These courses have been found to be a good background for varying occupations such as drafting, interior decorating and engineering.

One of the major concerns of any high school is that every student be given the opportunity to achieve to his fullest capacity. Since not all students progress at the same rate, Liberty has adopted a Special Education Program to give valuable guidance to those who need it. These classes provide as adequate an education as the regular classes but progress at a pace geared to the individual students abilities.

Traffic safety, automobile care, and behind-the-wheel practice are a few of the points in Driver Training.

During their sophomore year students, under the watchful eye of an instructor, are exposed to the hazards of actual driving. The practice and knowledge acquired will help guide them to be safer and more alert drivers.

Citizenship Training

Students participating in social studies become acquainted with the history and development, not only of our country, but also of other nations.

In western civilization classes, freshmen are familiarized with the history of people in foreign lands.

State requirements introduces sophomores to the social problems they may encounter as adults.

As juniors they begin to obtain an insight into the development and background of our own country.

In their senior year students take American government the first semester, and then, as a matter of their own choice, complete the year with either economics, sociology, or foreign relations.

This year, Liberty was fortunate to have Mr. Thom, Mr. Miller, and Mr. Holding added to the social studies department.

Honor, Pride and Practice Music Education

The Music department offered for the first time this year Harmony and Theory.

Both instructors in this department were active in their field during leisure time.

Mr. Jones played first trombone for the Stockton Symphony. Mr. Swingle sang in several local Hootenannies. Prior to teaching at Liberty, he sang professionally for a number of years.

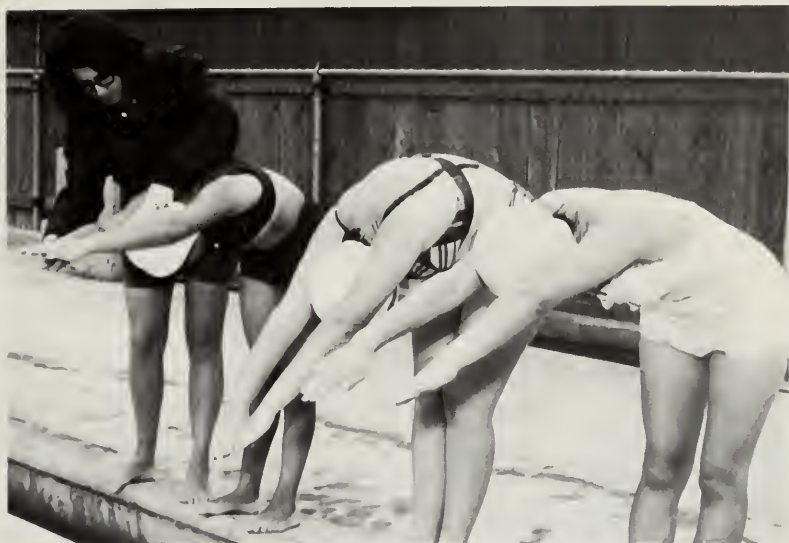

A band II student, Mike Suniga, practices in the sound proof room.

Variety Spices Girls' Gym Class

With the help and planning of the two new gym instructors, Miss Shari Saunders and Miss Patricia Caves, the girls' physical education department offered a more extensive program of sports this year. Besides the regular P. E. sports which include swimming, field hockey, baseball, basketball, volleyball, archery, badminton, and tennis. The department developed a training program for each of the sports. Before the students went into actual competitive games, they spent many hours improving the skills involved, and learning the rules and techniques involved in the sports.

The boys are train in such sports as basketball, football, gymnastics, swimming and track. Also, there is an extensive strength test.

Through working and playing together as teams, the students learn to get along with others and gain a better understanding of themselves.

FRESHMEN

Using Band II as a preparation for Band III, Ralph Temps, Sharon Kelley, Valerie Rozenski, and Edna Weeks work to improve their techniques.

Freshmen

This year the Class of '68 have had three coke sales, a car wash, and a dance featuring the J-Dells. Since the freshman class officers assisted the sophomores in the selection of a class ring, the freshmen were allowed to vote on the proposal.

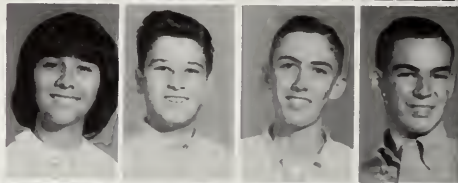

Of considerable help to the class were advisors, Mr. Yancey and Mrs. Barnes. The freshmen had a membership majority in the F. F. A. and Latin Club.

Because of the initiative this class has displayed, it is expected that the class of '68' will continue on as successful sophomores.

On the float rides Queen Marsha Ackerman and her four attendants, Delores Doyle, Marilyn Machado, Sandra Galarza, and Tami Vengley.

The selection of Homecoming Queen began with the October 9, 14, and 21 elections, the results of which were announced at the October 23 rally.

The rally moved rapidly with skits, routines, and cheers by the Songleaders and Cheerleaders. Preceding the announcement of the queen, the classes were led in the Spirit Yell, with a Sophomore victory.

A parade began the evening with the queen's float and those floats of the classes, and organizations. At half time the float winners were announced, with seniors taking first, juniors second, and sophomores third.

After the parade the Liberty team met Salesian for the deciding game of the championship. During the last four minutes of the game Salesian made two winning touchdowns.

The band presented a musical performance during half time, which was high-lighted by Captain Wayne Weder's presentation of an autographed football to the 1965 Homecoming Queen, Marsha Ackerman. The team presented the top five girls with football necklaces and the fine runner-ups with bracelets.

The queen was escorted to the Homecoming Dance, which she and the other top four contestants, reigned over as guests of honor. Couples danced to the music of Little Bonaparte and the Napoleans.

Before the Barn Dance on September 26, the boys in F. F. A. had voted for the top five contestants for Sweetheart: Marsha Ackerman, Leslie Ball, Sandy Galarza, Marilyn Machado, and Tami Vengley.

The final dance after a night of fun.

On Saturday night the boys' gym was scattered with hay and crowded with students who enjoyed the music of the Chessmen. Halfway through the dance, the President of F. F. A., Chet Pehl, announced the F. F. A. Sweetheart for 1965 -- Miss Tami Vengley.

On November 19 and 20 the students of Liberty brought to the stage William Powell's "Pioneer, Go Home".

At the John Swett Basketball game, the Lions' rooters typically displayed the spirit that won them the Spirit Trophy.

For Sportsmanship

Marsha Ackerman proudly displays trophy won by students.

A member of the East Bay Athletic League for the past few years, Liberty has been in competition for the trophy awarded by this League to the school showing the best sportsmanship and spirit at league games. Visiting school's committees rated Liberty at home games as to the sportsmanlike attitudes of the Lion team and its rooters, as well as the overall spirit during each performance.

Liberty has won the trophy three out of four times (1962 football, 1963-64 basketball, and 1964 football). We will receive it permanently if we keep showing such excellent sportsmanship. Congratulations Liberty!

The dance floor was a place of much activity and interest.

Marryin' Sam (Kent Edwards) and Daisy Mae (Marilyn Temps) conducted hitch'n ceremonies.

For originality the Sadie Hawkins Dance on March 13 won the prize. Students donned outfits they had designed themselves. Some wore ole patched levis and Dogpatch shirts, while others put on even more imaginative clothing. All had one thing in mind -- to have an enjoyable evening dancing to the music of The Lynx and laughing at the outfits worn by their friends.

Sadie Hawkins

Before they began to wail, the citizens of Dogpatch compared costumes.

Amidst the Valentine decorations students danced with their "Valentines".

Most popular dance of the night was the "Jerk".

Mr. Irresistible, Ron Parson, was presented with an identification bracelet.

Kiss Me Cupid

On February 11, the girls invited the boy of their choice to the G.A.A. Valentine's Dance cleverly entitled, "Kiss Me Cupid".

Featured the day of the dance was the Mr. Irresistible contest. Having been given name tags the day before, girls were instructed not to talk to the boys. If they spoke to a boy, the boy got their name tag. The boy with the most name tags was crowned "Mr. Irresistible" at the dance.

Under a sea of crepe paper, the evening was danced away.

Junior Prom

To make the Junior Prom, on March 6, remembered by all, the Junior Class put in many hours arranging the decorations for their theme, "Peppermint Paradise".

On Saturday night the students arrived at the boys' gym for a never-to-be-forgotten evening of dancing to the music of the "Lynx", amidst a stunning array of decorations. Their theme could not have been more appropriate for truly the Junior Prom was an evening in paradise.

Handsomely dressed couples enjoyed the music provided by the Lynx.

Much of the four hours was spent in socializing.

Christmas Capers

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, Brent Anderson and Marla Swope, greet each other with a Christmas kiss.

That old Christmas spirit really made this dance a success.

At some time during our young lives we all outgrow the idea that there really is a Santa Claus. However, the old fellow seemed to be the spirit of a Liberty Christmas, for again this year he and Mrs. Claus arrived on December 18, at the Christmas Capers Dance put on by the Yearbook Society. In his sack he carried little rings and, to make the dance merrier, offered to wed any or all of the happy couples who were enjoying the music of the Sonics.

Legionnaires Christensen and Honegger enjoying the feast.

November 7, L.D.S. Church. Once again patricians, plebeians and serfs took part in the annual Latin Club Banquet. A short humorous play was presented as a part of the entertainment. Rounding out a very enjoyable evening was the slave sale and feasting on rare delicacies.

Sophomore Hop

The Black Satins Provided Music for smooth dancing.

November 21, Liberty's North Gymnasium tenth graders proved to themselves and others that they were good hosts. Their dance had decorations which included a clever wishing well. Attractive Wayne Boulding and Jackie Hansen were chosen as King and Queen. Music for the evening was provided by the "Black Satins."

CLASS OF '67

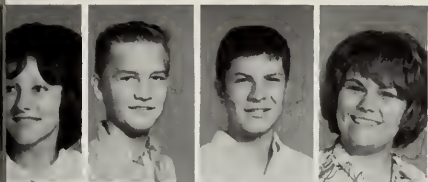

Sophomores were very active this year supporting school activities, going to games, carrying out many fund-raising projects, and participating in school rallies.

Perhaps the high point in their school year was the spectacular Sophomore Hop.

Tenth graders have brought distinction to Liberty by taking part in scholastic, governmental, and athletic competition throughout the year.

Mrs. Cook made a fine hostess for the Sophomore Hop.

1964 football season saw the Lions rise to their highest position in league play since 1956, when Herman Urenda and Company also placed second in the league standings. This season's team was a truly fine, representative club that always played hard and tough to win for Liberty. The team was especially effective as a defensive group that took advantage of their opponent's weaknesses as soon as discovered.

The league was better balanced this year than in the past in that every team except the champions was defeated at least once by another league member, and all teams gave good accounts of themselves on the grid-iron.

Liberty can be justly proud of its 1964 Lions' respectable 6 - 3 record and second place in the E.B.A.L. Although losing three games, they were never outclassed in either ability or poise.

Varsity Team Play-Not Height

Fans this year enjoyed a season of excitement, as the Lion's Varsity Basketball Team fought for victory.

A combination of skill and will found our Lions at the end of the season with seven league wins and seven losses, putting them in fourth place. Though not at the top of the league, Liberty completed the season with the special recognition of holding the high scoring game total of ninety-five points.

With the outstanding player, captain Frank Stonebarger, to urge the team on and call the plays, Liberty always gave a good account of itself.

Because of wrestling's success in its initial year under Coach Dawson, Liberty's chances for a league championship in the coming seasons look excellent.

New Coach New Tactics

The opening of a new baseball season always brings high hopes of a victorious team. This was even more true of this years Junior Varsity Baseball team.

Under the careful guidance of our new coach, Mr. Robert Glenn, the J.V.'s developed and became a team with the hope of bringing victory home to Liberty. They were hard hitting sportsmen that took both wins and loses in their stride. Truly these boys have acquired the sportsmanship it requires to have a successful team.

Under the direction of Coach Dawson and Assistant Coach Clem, the boys on the track team expect to work hard this season.

Returning lettermen from last year are Steve Dal Porto, Fred Gibson, Arno Greenleaf, Dave Honegger, Steve Honegger, Ralph Knauss, and Chet Pehl.

Liberty can expect to be in League race this year, with some of the fine individual performers returning: We hope to see more record breaking performances from Chet Phel, last year's captain and most valuable player. One of the many other outstanding trackmen in field events is Fred Gibson.

CHAPTERS: Carol Scarfo, Trudy Smith, Leslie Ball, Patti Mantelli, Sandy Dal Porto, and Arlene Smith.

Manager John Causey.

Cindermen In Apprenticeship

The 'B' track team which consists mainly of Freshmen and Sophomores has won two of its three meets. The boys continue to improve as the season progresses.

Some of these members will be of great importance to the 'A' track team next year. The 'B's' and their coaches Mr. Dawson and Assistant Coach Mr. Clem hope to capture many more meets this season.

Because so many lettermen are returning, Coach Ferrill has great hope for a winning swim team this year.

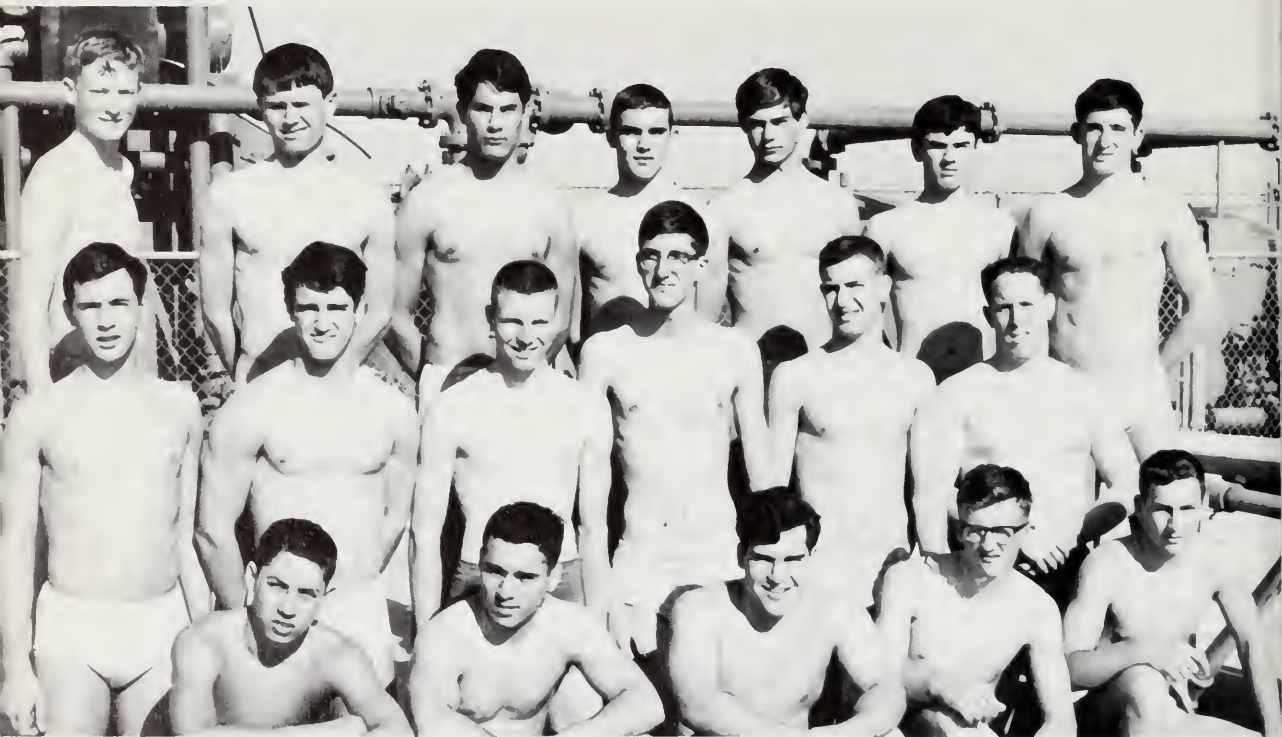

Charters for this year are Karen Armstrong, Gail Dallas, Joy Dallas, Leslie Frank, Claudia Gromm, Lorri Kirkman, Linda Machado, Vonnie Prewett, and Claudette Thomas.

The experience of veterans Mike Suniga, Steve Ridge, Brian Dallas, and Mitch Bloodworth provided experience which gave the newcomers confidence.

These boys combined consistent practice with high morale to make the B's a challenging team at all swim meets.

JUNIORS

Sponsoring the first after game dance, the Juniors sold refreshments which proved to be both enjoyable and profitable.

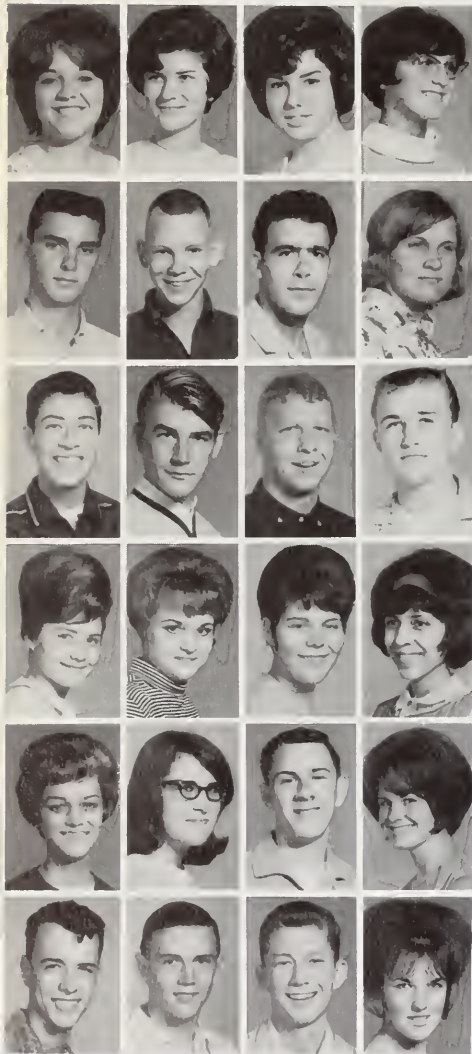

During the basketball season the Class of '66 provided the public with an assortment of refreshments.

After many hours of work on their float entitled "Control the Chieftains", the class was awarded second place in the annual Liberty Homecoming competition.

The Junior Prom with its elaborate decorations was the final and most outstanding Junior activity of the year.

Latin Club

Throughout the hustle and bustle of this busy year, Latin Club has managed to maintain a rushed but well organized schedule. This year started off with their annual club banquet. New members took their roles as slaves with some embarrassment but good-naturedness. Surviving the banquet, the newly ordained members enjoyed the privileges of attending numerous conventions, including those at Fresno, U.S.C., and Miramonte. To complete an exciting year, the constituents attended a farewell picnic.

Nurses Club

Practical experience and knowledge of a possible future was carried out in various ways in the Nurses Club.

To obtain a better understanding of aiding and comforting the sick, the Nurses Club took trips to such hospitals as the Merritt Hospital in Oakland, and the St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco where they observed nurses in their daily work.

To exercise their knowledge, Nurses Club sponsored a party for the Lone Tree Nursing Home and for the Hazel Woolley School.

Band

One might say that Liberty's School Band has a split personality; for it is both a marching and a concert band.

The marching band exhibited a fine half-time performance at all home games. It was among the top twenty bands from the Bay Area which competed in the University of Pacific's Band Day at Stockton. After being judged on its marching and musical skills, Liberty was presented the first place trophy. Also, Mr. Jones was selected Band Leader of the Year by the Central Valley and Bay Area band directors.

Playmakers

Although a newly organized club, the playmakers show promise in becoming one of Liberty's more active organizations. They presented a very successful production of Richard Powell's three act comedy, "Pioneer Go Home." A cast party followed the two night engagement of the play. In the early spring, club members attended a performance by the San Francisco Actors Workshop, and ended the year with a dinner and a dance.

South Orange explodes with a line to Toby Kwimper, as the Queen Bee and Morristown Kwimper look on.

Yearbook Society

Creating a yearbook takes numerous talents and skills. The people in this organization, although not necessarily Annual Staff members, have contributed their abilities to the production of this book.

To raise money, the Society hosted the annual Christmas Capers Dance featuring the "Sonics" and hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus.

They acknowledged the best all-round athlete by presenting him with a personal trophy and added a plaque to the collection in the North Gymnasium. After the final deadline, the year's events were completed with a club dance and swim party.

Society members jam themselves into a car and head for their swimming party.

It is fitting that this should be the climatic year for the Seniors. For the zest with which they challenged their studies led to academic awards in languages, sciences, and fine arts. Along with these most noteworthy accomplishments, they set other excellent examples for their fellow students: often winning the "Spirit Jug" at school rallies, capturing first place with their float in this year's Homecoming parade, and being instrumental in Liberty's winning the E.B.-D.V.A.L. trophy once again. These were but a few of their achievements. The energy of the Seniors led to successful money raising sales, dances, and many other activities. These will be remembered along with the fine classes that have been attended during the senior's last year at Liberty.

Trudy Smith, Sandy Galarza, Marsha Ackerman and Fred Gibson discuss school spirit with Mr. Bronzan.

In looking over this year's Lion, one notices many changes. The one hundred seventy-two pages, plus four pages for autographs, represents the largest year-book ever for Liberty. A first is the full colored end sheets. This year a curriculum section was included along with classroom pictures and the faculty with their degrees and assignments. Last, an index was included to aid in the finding of important photographs.

It is with pride that this year's Lion is presented. The staff feels that this is one of the finest annuals in our region. It represents hard work and many problems, but also many happy memories. We hope that the 1965 Lion also holds fond memories for the reader and will be treasured for a lifetime.
